WASHINGTON CITY.

Belknap Will Get Off.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—It is now tolerably certain that the Senate will vote against having jurisdiction in the impeachment case. Eaton is the only Democrat who has announced his intention to so vote, but it is probable that nearly as many Democrats will join the Republicans as Republicans like Edmunds will vote in its favor. The vote will not be reached before Wednesday.

Fish on Winslow.

NEW YORK, May 21.—The Times reviews the text of Fish's dispatch of March 21st and comes to the conclusion that Americans are justified in saying that according to England's own law Winslow must be given up without any promise respecting the trial.

Secretary Robeson's Jobs.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The World's Washington special reports that the House committee on naval affairs reported Saturday, fully digested and shows quite clearly Cattells, in their transactions with Robeson, cannot account for nearly $100,000. They have paid him thus far only one third. The evidence is made public on the same subject. The Times says editorially, that obvious suggestions in this connection is that it will not be enough for the Secretary of the Navy to show how he came to have money transactions with Cattells, but the public wish to know how Cattells happened to be able to command per centage of profits from contractors. If this was without the Secretary's knowledge, what is his knowledge of his business worth?

Robeson Promises to Rise and Explain.

The Times' Washington special says Robeson will soon appear before the committee on naval affairs if desired. He will show the documents themselves, which will prove the propriety of all his transactions and that he had business transactions with Catells before his appointment as Secretary of the Navy. The documents of the Secretary of the Treasury, transmitted to the Senate in obedience to the resolution requesting him to show what balances are on the books of the Treasury against public officers, will demonstrate that collections are more than double, and balances against officials less than one tenth now than they were twenty years preceding.

Grant Censured by the Times.

The Times editorially says: Every disinterested friend of the President will regret that he has again lent himself to the Spencer faction in Alabama by removing an important officer and putting one of Spencer's most objectionable creatures in that place. The removal and appointment would be bad enough under any circumstances, and was especially discreditable in the midst of the existing struggles among the Republicans of the State, with all the good elements of the party against Spencer.

Robeson Likely to Retire.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The more one examines the huge mass of testimony given before the House naval committee, the stronger becomes the conviction that the days of Robeson as Cabinet officer are numbered. The administration can scarcely venture to brave public opinion by retaining in its councils a man whose official career shows so many ugly and suspicious blemishes.

Postal Change.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The following are the postoffice changes in Oregon and Washington Territory for the week. Offices established—North Powder, Baker county, Oregon, Miss M. A. Tarter, postmistress. Norway, Coos county, Oregon, J. Henry Schroeder, postmaster. Oneonta, Benton county, Oregon, John E. Peterson, postmaster. Ringo Point, Clackamas county, Oregon, W. J. Allison, postmaster; Bay Center, Pacific county, Washington Territory, Sidney Smith, postmaster. Postmaster appointed—Henry Jackson, Lowell, Snohomish county, Washington Territory.

Schenck's Agent Contradicts Him.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House committee on foreign affairs to-day received a letter from Cheesborough, of London, in which, replying to certain inquiries cabled by the committee ten days ago, he states that he left Paris in December, 1872, and went to London, at the request of General Schenck, to look after the latter's stock interests, and that while in London he received a dispatch from Gen. Schenck authorizing the sale of 2,800 shares of Emma mine stock for Schenck, which telegram he took to the General's bankers, Jay Cooke, McCullough & Co. In view of these statements, which are directly contradictory to that part of Schenck's testimony, the committee will delay their report in order to afford Schenck an opportunity to reappear before them.

Reported Death of the President's Grandchild.

It is reported this afternoon that the President received a cable dispatch from London to-day announcing the death in this city last night of the infant child of his daughter, Mrs. Sartoris.

Nominations by the President.

The President sent to the Senate the nominations of Pierrepont for Minister to England, Judge Taft for attorney general, and McDonald Cameron, son of Simon Cameron, for secretary of war.

The nomination of Don Cameron for Secretary of War will be regarded as the selling price of Pennsylvania's vote for Conkling at the Cincinnati convention.

The President also sent to the Senate the following nominations: John P. Hoyt, of Michigan, to be Secretary of Arizona; John Pratt to be Secretary of the Territory of New Mexico; John J. Redick to be Associate Justice of the supreme court of New Mexico; James R. Hayden, Collector of Internal Revenue for Washington Territory.

Confirmations.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Senate in executive session confirmed the nominations of Pierrepont, Taft and Cameron.

Report on Emma Mine.

Representative Hewitt to-day read to the foreign affairs committee the report on the Emma mine case. It will not be made to the House before Thursday.

Blaine Still Ill.

Blaine is still confined to the house by illness.

Louisiana Investigation.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The committee on federal officers in Louisiana met again to-day and continued the examination of G. W. Ferguson. The witness alluded further to the custom house band, and thought there were twelve or fourteen members in it, and thinks their names are all on the pay roll of the custom house. The band was used to attend political meetings, and Collector Casey once took them down the river when he went on an excursion in the revenue cutter John A. Dix. Jerry Bell was leader, Grumell and Sam Lechburger were members.

In relation to frauds, witness said that one in San Domingo imported cigarettes in boxes, containing 35 packs in each box, while the law requires that each box shall contain 25 packs, and the tax is paid on that basis. In this lot there were 58 boxes, and as each had 10 extra packs in it, there were 580 packs that evaded the tax. It was the inspector's duty to see that all boxes contained the proper number. Ingalls was inspecting officer in this case, and witness did not report this case, because he felt sure he would have been discharged if he had done so. He had known instances where parties had been discharged for knowing too much.

The witness was asked if he could identify the fraudulent pay rolls of which he had spoken, and he said he could. A sub committee, consisting of Reilly and Darrell, were appointed to be at the treasury department with witness, and see if the rolls were returned to that department. They were also instructed, in response to the telegram received by the chairman, from New Orleans, to ascertain if the pay rolls for the month of December, 1875, and January and February 1876, were in the department, also if any application had been made to withdraw them, if so, by whom. A recess was then taken until 3 o'clock.

Ferguson continued his testimony in the Louisiana affair after the recess. He said he was a police officer in New Orleans, and was dismissed for disrespect to his superior officer. While in the custom house, later, he noticed some frauds and took memorandums of them, so that if ever they attempted to discharge him he would hold those facts over their heads.

Folley, of Washington, testified that as a lawyer he was engaged in the prosecution of a large claim for Peruvian guano, involving one hundred millions. During the prosecution of that claim he learned that James Casey, P. F. Herwig and Nicholas Casey were interested in the claim, having paid Dr. J. F. Landeran, the owner of the claim $2,800 and promised to aid in the prosecution of the case and then Casey Thomas, minister to Peru resigned and then Casey used his influence to have Gibbs appointed in his place. Casey and Herwig were to receive 30 per cent. of the proceeds of the claim. The witness had a conversation with Casey after Thomas had resigned and Casey told witness that Gibbs would be appointed, but the appointment would not be made until after the executive session of the Senate had adjourned. This was in March, 1875, and in about a week after the Senate adjourned Gibbs was appointed. Casey told the witness that Secretary Fish opposed the appointment of Gibbs. Witness was the lawyer for Landeran and the latter wanted to go to Peru as secretary to Gibbs so that he could better prosecute the case, and that was all he held the conversation with Casey. The United States was prosecuting this case in a diplomatic way, but had no pecuniary interest in the matter. The witness said Casey being a government officer violated the statute in buying an interest in a claim in which the United States was a party. The witness worked nine months for Landeran and then Landeran sold out his claim. This witness had told the committee about ten days ago he had some important information to give, and the committee had him summoned and he has been waiting until to-day to testify. After he had testified a motion was made that the testimony be stricken from the record as having no bearing on the matter before the committee. It was finally allowed to remain for a few days simply to see if anything else came out of it.

The New Appointees.

Pierrepont will take immediate steps to depart for England, and Taft will, without delay, take charge of the Department of Justice. Pierrepont will probably arrive in England before the termination of the correspondence with the British government on the Winslow extradition case.

Cameron has telegraphed to his friends that he very highly appreciates the honor conferred upon him by the President and Senate that it was entirely unexpected, that he is now too much indisposed to leave, but hopes to be here in a few days, and in the meantime will decide whether he will accept the office.

Civil Service Investigation.

The sub committee of the Congressional committee on judiciary expenditures met to-day and examined E. A. Beets, clerk of New York district court. The committee present were Caulfield, Meade, Cochrane and Joyce. Beets stated his salary was $1,800 a year and the expenses of the office were some $1,500 and that the receipt covered the salaries and expenses. Searches for judgments and liens are charged for though made by regularly paid clerks. One per cent. was charged on all moneys paid into court and government cases settled, as in the case of Phillips, Dodge & Co., where he received $2,700. In this case his fees without the one per cent. commission, were $14.70.

Benedict testified to being clerk of the circuit and district courts of Brooklyn, and to receiving $ 500 for each office.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—H. F. Barnum, Senator elect from Connecticut, took the oath of office.

Sherman presented the petition of A. M. Clapp, Congressional printer, to the effect that he is an officer of the Senate; that great injustice has been done him by the committee on printing in the House of Representatives, that the books of his office are detained from him by that committee, and that no opportunity was given him for an explanation of the charges brought before that committee. Sherman moved that it be referred to the committee on privileges and elections, with instructions to inquire into the truth of the allegations. So referred.

When the Senate resumed the consideration of the articles of impeachment, Barnum, the new Senator from Connecticut, was sworn in as a member of the court. The discussion on the question of jurisdiction was continued, and Mitchell made a lengthy argument in favor of it. He was followed by Logan in opposition.

The Senate then went into executive session.

At half past one the doors were reopened, but immediately closed again, and the Senate resumed the consideration of the articles of impeachment. At half past four the Senate again went into executive session, and after a short time the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

House.

Tucker offered a resolution directing the President to inform the House whether he has received any official information with regard to violence and danger menacing American citizens in Ottoman provinces, and whether any steps had been taken for the protection of such Americans and requesting him to take measures to insure such protection to American citizens. Adopted.

Page offered a resolution which was tabled by a party vote, declaring that the power to elect a President had never been delegated to the House of Representatives.

A resolution was adopted dismissing Fitzhugh, doorkeeper, and transferring the duties of doorkeeper to the sergeant-at-arms until further orders.

The House went into committee of the whole on the appropriation bill.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Peace of Europe.

LONDON, May 21.—Count Andrassy yesterday said in conversation: "I am now able to state that the peace of Europe will not be disturbed. The proposed reforms will be accepted by Europe and Turkey, and joyfully greeted by the insurgents, who now only desire guarantees for their execution. The recent action of the powers is directed toward the peaceful removal of obstacles preventing the accomplishment of reforms."

More Troops for Cuba.

LONDON, May 22.—A dispatch from Madrid says that 30,000 troops, including three cavalry regiments, are under orders to sail for Cuba Sept. 1st.

Fresh Troubles in Spain.

There is great possibility of a rising in the Basque provinces on account of the abolition of the Fueros. The troops in the garrison there number 30,000 and the force is by no means excessive under the circumstances. Navarre deputies will probably accept the government conditions.

The Sultan gone Crazy.

LONDON, May 22.—A Vienna dispatch says the mental condition of the Sultan causes great apprehension that he is subject to delusions, and fearing he will be buried alive or poisoned.

The insurgents are now under arms in Belgrade and they have fled to the mountains. The Softas have sent a deputation proposing alliance.

British House of Commons.

LONDON, May 22.—In the House of Commons to-day Disraeli, in reply to a question of Maurice Brooks, Liberal and Home Rule member from Dublin, as to whether he intended to advise the Queen to extend royal mercy to persons imprisoned for breach of allegiance to Her Majesty, stated that only 15 persons remain in custody within the category of the Brooks question. After a lengthy explanation, showing that two of these had been convicted of murder, six were in English prisons and the remainder in West Australia under military surveillance merely, Disraeli said, considering the circumstances, the government cannot now recommend further amnesty.

John O'Connor Power, member from Mayo county, who is also a Liberal and Home Ruler, under a motion to adjourn, strongly protested against the government's course.

George Anderson, Liberal from Glasgow, Disraeli, Joseph Gillis Biggar, member from Cavan, Ireland, Home Rulers and Liberals spoke in reply upholding the action of the ministry, and declaring that England's honor was at stake. After further observations by Chas. S. Parnell, Home Ruler, member from Meath, Philip Callan, Liberal from Dundalk, and others—some of the English members saying they signed the petition for amnesty under misapprehension—the subject of Fenians dropped. The scene during the debate was very animated.

John Simon, Liberal, will ask, to-morrow, whether the British subjects on board the Octavio at the time of her capture by the Spaniards have been released, and, if not, whether any steps have been taken to obtain their release; since all on board the Octavio were protected by the British flag.

In replying to the question of Campbell, Disraeli said that the government was unable to concur in the proposal of the Northern Powers for the pacification of Turkish provinces, and that it was impossible to publish the terms of the proposal which had been formally communicated to the Porte.

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, Liberal member for the city of Oxford, will to-morrow question the government as to whether before the final release of Winslow, the House will have an opportunity to consider the correspondence between the United States and the British government in his case.

Winslow.

LONDON, May 22.—It is understood that the government will ask that Winslow be further remanded to-morrow, and as Baron Pollock is not likely to make any difficulty, there is little probability of the prisoner's immediate discharge. Indeed, the feeling is growing up here among those interested in the case that the government will not adhere to its present position, but will seek some other solution of the question than a refusal on its own responsibility to comply with the requirements of the treaty. The Pall Mall Gazette, which has hitherto strongly endorsed the position of the government, in a leading editorial to-day, on Secretary Fish's letter of the 31st of March, 1876, still maintains that the government is obliged to obey municipal law in preference to treaty stipulations, but says the government ought to take steps to refer to the courts the question whether the Ashburton treaty is excepted from the operation of the act of 1870. In the last resort, says the Pall Mall Gazette, it is a question for the law courts, and there are recognized means of raising the latter for their decision. Our government will not be wholly free from responsibility to the United States until this question has been so raised and decided.

Foreign Markets.

The Mark Lane Express says the present aspect of the country, although not alarming, is not calculated to afford farmers much satisfaction. Light lands bear fairly promising crops, but on heavy soils the crops are poor. We incline to the idea that with the cessation of cold winds and with a little warm rain, crops will fairly recover. Country markets are almost without exception dearer. At the close of last week trade in London had been marked with considerable firmness and with a steady demand for the continent. Wheat has improved a shilling per quarter. The continuance of export inquiry and the steadiness with which cargoes off coast are taken for the continent show that the request is based upon a genuine foundation, and the leading feature of trade has been considerably strengthened thereby. In addition to the inquiry for wheat on the spot and cargoes off coast, the demand for the continent has extended to cargoes on passage from Australia and California. It is proper to supplement the foregoing with the statement that the weather has moderated greatly, the thermometer rising to 71, and to-day showers have fallen and weather warm.

Amnesty Debate in the French Senate.

PARIS, May 22.—The debate on the amnesty question was opened in the Senate to-day. The floor and galleries were crowded with members and spectators. Victor Hugo introduced a motion for complete amnesty, and addressed the Senate. He urged that under a Republican form of government the right of pardon was the prerogative of the Assembly. This right should not be abolished, and could only be exercised in the form of an amnesty. He drew an elaborate comparison between the commune and the coup d'etat. Napoleon's crime, he declared, was greater than that of the commune, that the magistracy swore allegiance to the crime of the 2d of December, when it decreed transportation to galleys and shooting against the commune. The hour had come to stigmatize the coup d'etat by voting amnesty full and complete. Victor Hugo was listened to with deep attention, and at the conclusion of his speech was congratulated even by the opponents of amnesty. The Bonapartists remained silent.

Tolain said the government finds there is nothing to reply to in Hugo's speech.

The motion was then rejected almost unanimously—about eight radical Senators voting for it.

LETTER FROM PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, May 7, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The work of preparing for the grand opening ceremonies is progressing rapidly, and although the forms will be gone through with, still the whole arrangements will not be completed before the first of June. Our material is coming out in excellent condition, considering the distance it has been transported, very little having been damaged on its passage. As some of the packages go into place it would do you good to hear the remarks and see the astonishment manifested by some of the farmers, lumbermen and fruit-growers of the older States. The department for Massachusetts is right alongside of ours, and being within a day's travel and having $50,000 State appropriation they are enabled to make a splendid display. Their superintendent is a real gentleman, and among other material had prepared heads of grain in glass cases for exhibition. When our grain in the straw came out, these heads in the Massachusetts department disappeared, but I presume they will bring them back again. There will also be a strong competition in fruit. Oh, if I only had a few specimens of our fruit! It does seem to me as if there might be enterprise enough among our fruit growers to furnish them. I know if our people could once see the contrast, and witness the anxiety manifested by strangers about everything coming from Oregon, they would inaugurate means to furnish all our fruits and vegetables in their season. I append the accompanying extract from the Philadelphia Press relative to arrangements made for exhibiting fruits:

"As the season of the Exhibition spares so long a period, it will be possible to show the pomological products of the previous year which have been kept over. This display will be during the week beginning May 16th, and will consist of the apples, pears and nuts of 1875, the keeping qualities of which warrant their exposition, along with vegetables raised this season. As the apple is the most important northern fruit, it is gratifying to know that one State, Michigan, will send us this month forty varieties. The strawberry, that delicious morsel of acid, will be shown from June 7th for a week, and the West Indian, who, while at home, may have hopelessly longed for a taste of it, will be able to judge for himself of its merits. Our Quaker butter dairies of Delaware and Chester counties will compete for the prize on best "prints" with all the world for "Early Grass Butter," June 13th. Early cheese will also then be shown, and early vegetables, June 20th. But time and space fail to tell of successive shows of honey, raspberries and blackberries, melons, peaches, cereals, potatoes and nuts, which follow. Each close on the heels of its predecessor week after week till November 1st."

I have made an effort to obtain specimens of our fruit in cast from the Agricultural Department at Washington to place on exhibition, but Mr. Bayard informs me that their fruit is all to be exhibited in the Government buildings and they cannot be spared. I shall try and get them duplicated if possible.

Yours, etc. A. J. DUFUR,
Commissioner for Oregon.

P. S. Our State map has not yet arrived, as I had a space especially prepared for it, the wall looks very naked without it. Ain't it going to come? A. J. D.

BLAINE OR BRISTOW.

OREGON CITY, May 22, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In the issue of the 18th you say that Bristow appears to have a great deal of strength among the people, but little with the politicians. This is an admission true in itself, and as a consequence it would seem as if the popular refrain should be echoed by the OREGONIAN, which for some years past has shown its disdain of the politicians in the interest of the people. I therefore hope the OREGONIAN in the coming contest of the candidates will not stultify its past record by advocating the politicians' choice—Blaine, against the peoples' favorite,—Bristow.

Had Blaine in fourteen years of official life at Washington ever been found in the gage of battle against corruption in any guise, something could be said in his commendation. But history is silent as to the instance. To claim on the one hand great sagacity, honesty and statesmanship for him and then to presume him innocent of any knowledge of the reeking corruption of the past, are inadmissible and contrary presumptions. It is not enough to claim for him non-participation in the thefts, and if he was too obtuse to see the tendency of the times, Charles Sumner and Carl Schurz were the first to publicly proclaim from official position the iniquities of Grant's administration did Blaine ever second them, or hold up their hands in their endeavor to weed out rascality when it was in its germ? I know these are serious questions but they had better be asked and answered before an incubus is seated on the Republican party, to weigh it down in the coming campaign, rather than to have them propounded when it is too late. I am very anxious myself to vote for an incorruptible Republican for the next Presidency but whether I am able to do so will depend upon whether the politicians' choice is foisted on the convention. O.

At Mr. Sloper's mill, near Dallas, last week, the iron dog that holds the log in position, fell before the saw, and was cut in twain, while every tooth in the saw, but one, was broken and the saw itself badly bent. A piece of the dog struck Mr. Chamness, a mill hand, but did not hurt him seriously.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The Nevada and Northern Telegraph Company was yesterday adjudicated a bankrupt, before Register Mitchell. The principal creditors are—Platt Burr, of Portland, $28,500; Tillotson & Co., New York, $6,000; C. P. R. R. Co., $5,000; total indebtedness, $48,000. The War on the Central Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The injunction suit of A. Coulot against the Central Pacific set for to-day was laid over until to-morrow, at the request of the defendants. The war between the directors and the small stockholders of the company promises to be carried to extremity. It is reported that the next move against the directors will be to attack the legality of the consolidation of the Southern with the Central Pacific, it being claimed by the adverse parties that the statutory provisions have not been complied with in such consolidation.

Gold Hill Stock to be Increased.

The stockholders of the original Gold Hill Mining Company have decided to increase their capital stock from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000 in 100,000 shares.

Smallpox in San Francisco.

The smallpox has again made its appearance in this city. Four cases have been discovered among the white residents in the vicinity of the Chinese quarter, and it is supposed that a number of cases exist there that have not come to light. Those attacked were removed to the pest house, and their houses are quarantined. The health officers are reported to have expressed fears of its becoming an epidemic, and recommend measures of prosecuting the steamer Colorado, which had several cases on board and is still undergoing fumigation in Mission Bay.

Chinaman Shot.

An old man named W. W. Williams, who was engaged in mining at Rebel Hill, about three miles from Fulsome, killed a Chinaman yesterday in a dispute about a $4 wash bill, by shooting him with a pistol. The Chinaman was the aggressor, having rushed upon Williams with a huge knife, and the latter claims that he acted in self-defense.

Smallpox in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The board of health held a special meeting this afternoon to consider what measures should be taken with regard to the infected steamship Colorado. A committee of two was appointed to visit the Colorado with the quarantine officer and take such measures as they should see fit. The board voted to prosecute the pilot who brought the Colorado into port. One physician at the meeting referring to the recent cases of smallpox discovered in the neighborhood of Chinatown, is of the opinion that all that part of the town would become infected.

Bay View Investigation.

The investigation of the Bay View distillery was completed to-day. S. courts.

Suicide.

The clothing of a female was found on Thursday on the bank near Bow's distillery, Mission creek, and naked foot prints leading from them and along the muddy beach to the water. On the previous evening, a young woman was seen on the spot reading a book. A suicide is believed to have been committed. The police authorities are investigating the affair.

Revolting Proposition.

Henry Roberts has sent a petition to the Board of Supervisors for permission to exhibit the head of the bandit Chavez, captured by him in November last in Arizona. Roberts represents that he has been at considerable expense since the date of capture, and that it will be impossible for him to receive the reward offered by Gov. Booth until the meeting of the next legislature, and his funds, being exhausted, he desires permission to make such an exhibition as will enable him, by its profits, to return to Arizona.

SAN DIEGO, May 22.—A card appears in the World this evening saying there has been no Democratic convention held in this county, that the convention held some days ago was composed of renegades and soreheads from the Democratic party, and that the regular Democratic central committee held a meeting on the 6th of May, and appointed J. G. Estudillo, Wallace Leach, B. A. Fickas, P. J. Boland and Thos. Sherman delegates to the State convention, who are entitled to represent this county in said convention. Signed by Thos. Sherman, chairman and M. J. McCarthy, secretary.

Political Discussion and Row at Roseburg.

ROSEBURG, May 21.—Yesterday afternoon four of the nominees of the Republican, Independent and Democratic parties, addressed a large audience at this place. Gen. Joseph Lane opened the discussion, occupying twenty minutes, and gave general satisfaction, which was made manifest by frequent applause. Mr. Smith, one of the Democratic nominees, followed, and succeeded in convincing the people that he was a plain, common sense, honest farmer. W. F. Owens, one of the Independent nominees, then addressed the audience, and sustained his reputation as a good stump speaker. Mr. Colvig, one of the Republican nominees, was then called to the stand. He entertained the audience by recounting the past history of the Republican and Democratic parties and spoke of the origin of the Independent party, where it had erred, etc. During his speech, he made an assertion which Mr. Owens saw fit to contradict, and he did so by stopping him in the process of his speech and calling him a liar. A lively time ensued. Men rushed to the speakers' stand, evidently with the intention of removing Owens, who had started the trouble, and was denouncing Colvig as a "contemptible liar." Peace was finally restored, but the audience was too much excited to listen calmly to the remarks of Messrs. Hermann and Benjamin who afterwards spoke. The excitement was intense in Roseburg last night. Owens and Colvig went before the people last night by torchlight, and convinced them that this is one of the most boisterous campaigns ever witnessed in Douglas county.

CENTENNIAL MACHINES.

"America leads the world in agricultural implements. At the Paris Exposition and again at Vienna all the leading prizes were carried off by American inventions. The display in this branch of industry at the Philadelphia Exposition doubtless exceeds that in any of the previous "World's Fairs." A recent number of the Troy Times thus relates what a reporter of that paper saw of the preparations making for the great occasion by one of the leading establishments in this country:

Yesterday, upon the invitation of the officers of the Walter A. Wood mowing machine company, a considerable number of gentlemen visited the works of the company at Hoosick Falls and inspected the machines which have been built for exhibition at the Centennial. The delegation was made up of many of Troy's representative men, and the trip in all its details was a most enjoyable as well as instructive occasion. Messrs. Willard Gay, C. W. Tillinghast and W. P. Warren had charge of the arrangements, and of course they were quite perfect. The company propose to exhibit 10 machines at Philadelphia as follows: One header, one harvester and binder, one chain rake, one attachment for chain rake to be used as a mower or reaper, one sweep rake, one American two-horse and one American one-horse mower, one South American low-cut two-horse mower, one English mower with dropper attachment for reaping, and one English one-horse reaper with mowing attachment. As we have already described the machines, which are almost marvels of artistic workmanship, quite handsome enough for parlor ornaments, and sufficiently strong and durable for the practical purposes of husbandry to which they are to be put after their exhibition, we need not enlarge upon them now further than to say that they are made of the usual materials which are employed in the manufacture of the company, most elaborately finished and beautified. The woodwork is painted in vermillion, black and gold; the ironwork is nickel-plated—all the parts being polished to a surprising degree. The machines represent one each of the several manufactures of the company, and are to be set up in the Centennial buildings with power attachment ready for operation at all times. The boxes, seat-standards and levers are in black walnut. Each machine bears the motto, "Labor omnia vincit"—labor has conquered all things—together with the company's monogram and emblematical designs of chaste and exquisite workmanship.

After reviewing these wonderful productions of skill, ingenuity and taste, the inspecting gentlemen made a tour of the company's immense workshops. They saw (but we apprehend few of the uninitiated understood) how 40 of these agricultural implements are daily turned out and shipped to all parts of the world for use in the service of man; how the rough ore becomes in a little while symmetrical parts, bright and polished, of these great labor-saving implements of the age; how the rough oak is all bent and fashioned for its purposes by the wonderful machinery employed; how, in short, by the most systematic division of labor, a force of 700 men makes the shops vocal with the melody of industry, and accomplishes results that may be set down as among the greatest of human achievements in what we choose to denominate real science and art. Mr. Wood was present, and with Treasurer Gay, Mr. Tillinghast and others of the management of the company, were especially attentive to the guests. The Trojans returned home at 6 o'clock, having enjoyed a most instructive and delightful occasion.

ITEMS FROM PUYALLUP.

Some enterprising Michiganders just out from that dear old State, are getting out cotton wood bolts. They are litterally covering the ground with them. I believe they get $5 a cord delivered at Tacoma. This is a business that might be carried on, both to advantage and profit to the owners of land here. If the land holders here could realize $4 or even $3 for every cord of balm or cotton wood on their land, it would more than pay the expense of clearing.

Mr. C. B. Robbins, late clerk of E. Meeker & Co., has just completed his fine storehouse and will go sometime the last of this week to Portland for a $3,000 stock of goods. Mr. R. is a thorough business man, well calculated to gain a fair share of patronage; in other words, "the right man in the right place." He has built by the side of the present survey of railroad, which has just been completed from Tacoma to the coal mines.

A party of five men from Tacoma, passed here on Thursday, going to the coal mines, intending to spend several days in the exploration of the coal fields. We hope their labors will be crowned with success.

The grain crops look very well. There is not very much grain sown on the river bottom lands this season, owing to the great amount of hops cultivated in this vicinity. The most of the farmers have to buy their flour. It appears that every one has turned his attention to the cultivation of hops, and entirely forgotten that wheat, that makes bread, is the staff of life.

The hops are looking very fine, though some yards have not received the proper amount of labor, on account of the heavy rainfall during the winter and spring.

Mr. James Woolery has rented a small tract of land on which he intends laying out a race course. There is not a much better location in the Puyallup valley than the present one. The proprietor proposes to keep some of the best "blood" on the coast. The thing will be managed on the Sacramento Jockey Club style. The celebrated young "Buck-all-Off," "Cultus Jim," and "Lightning Jack," have just been received by the proprietor. Fees of entrance, 200 hop poles, side bets on the same ratio. There will be kept refreshments for ladies and gentlemen. The time for racing will be duly announced in the Hardscrabble Gazette. PACIFIC.

FROM BROWNSVILLE.

"Citizen" writing from Brownsville under date of the 22d inst. says:

The Brownsville Woolen Mills are still shut down for the want of wool, but they will probably start up next month. This company so far have been very successful, and the blankets, flannels and other goods manufactured by them are far superior to those that used to be imported here.

Prof. X. N. Steeves has just closed a successful term of writing school. The interest in the school was manifest from the very beginning, and much good was done. The youngest scholar in the school, Miss Sarah Kay, took the prize for most improvement, and received a magnificent gold pen and holder, and amidst numerous competitors for best penmanship, Miss Minnie Leach "got away" with Shakspeare—the prize.

Although we are not on the line of any railroad, we have a live town, and among other things we have several lodges here. The Masons, Odd Fellows, Grangers, Champions and, last but not least, the Good Templars, all hold meetings here and are doing well. Last Saturday evening the Odd Fellows had quite a surprise. After the usual lodge business was over the ladies brought in a splendid supper, which was well appreciated by them all.

The following is a list of the officers of the Good Templars for this quarter: W. F. Ross, W. C. T.; Annie Rowland, W. V. T.; Dr. A. W. Marsters, Sec., H. R. Powell, W. F. S.; Mrs. M. E. Willson, W. At our last meeting the following were elected representatives to the Grand Lodge at Salem: Mrs. Sade Long, Geo. A. Dyson, L. A. Banks.

Robeson Promises to Rise and Explain.

The Times' Washington special says Robeson will soon appear before the committee on naval affairs ... He will show the documents themselves, which will prove the propriety of all his transactions and that he had business transactions with Cattells before his appointment as Secretary of the Navy. The documents of the Secretary of the Treasury transmitted to the Senate in obedience to the resolution requesting him to show what balances are on the books of the Treasury against public officers, will demonstrate that collections are more than double and balances against officers less than one tenth now than they were twenty years preceding.

Grant Censured by the Times.

The Times editorially says: Every disinterested friend of the President will regret that he has again lent himself to the Spencer faction in Alabama by removing an important officer and putting one of Spencer's most objectionable creatures in that place. The removal and appointment would be bad enough under any circumstances, and was especially discreditable in the midst of the existing struggles among the Republicans of the State with all the good elements of the party against Spencer.

Robeson Likely to Retire.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The more one examines the huge mass of testimony given before the House naval committee the stronger becomes the conviction that the days of Robeson as Cabinet officer are numbered. The administration can scarcely venture to brave public opinion by retaining in its counsels a man whose official career shows so many ugly and suspicious blemishes.

Schenck's Agent Contradicts Him.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House committee on foreign affairs to-day received a letter from Chesborough of London, in which, replying to certain inquiries cabled by the committee ten days ago, he states that he left Paris in December, 1872, and went to London at the request of General Schenck to look after the latter's stock interests, and that while in London he received a dispatch from Gen. Schenck authorizing the sale of 2,000 shares of Emma mine stock for Schenck, which telegram he took to the General's bankers, Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co. In view of these statements, which are directly contradictory to that part of Schenck's testimony, the committee will delay their report in order to afford Schenck an opportunity to reappear before them.

It is reported this afternoon that the President received a cable dispatch from London to-day announcing the death in this city last night of the infant child of his daughter, Mrs. Sartoris.

Nominations by the President.

The President sent to the Senate the nominations of Pierrepont for Minister to England, Judge Taft for attorney general, and McDonald Cameron, son of Simon Cameron, for secretary of war.

The nomination of Don Cameron for Secretary of War will be regarded as the selling price of Pennsylvania's vote for Conkling at the Cincinnati convention.

The President also sent to the Senate the following nominations: John P. Hoyt, of Michigan, to be Secretary of Arizona; John [illegible] to be secretary of the Territory of New Mexico; John J. [illegible] to be Associate Justice of the supreme court of New Mexico; James K. Hayden, Collector of Internal Revenue for Washington Territory.

Confirmations.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Senate in executive session confirmed the nominations of Pierrepont, Taft and Cameron.

Representative Hewitt to-day read to the foreign affairs committee the report on the Emma mine case. It will not be made to the House before Thursday.

Blaine is still confined to the house by illness.

Louisiana Investigation.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The committee on federal officers in Louisiana met again to-day and continued the examination of G. W. Ferguson. The witness alluded further to the custom house band, and thought there were twelve or fourteen members in it, and thinks their names are all on the pay roll of the custom house. The band was used to attend political meetings, and Collector Casey once took them down the river when he went on an excursion in the revenue cutter J. [illegible]. Jerry Bell was leader; Grunelt and Sam Lesburger were members.

In relation to frauds, witness said that one in San Domingo imported cigarettes in boxes containing 35 packs in each box, while the law requires that each box shall contain 20 packs, and the tax is paid on that basis. In this lot there were 58 boxes, and as each had 10 extra packs in it there were 580 packs that evaded the tax. It was the Inspector's duty to see that all boxes contained the proper number. Ingalls was inspecting officer in this case, and witness did not report this case because he felt sure he would have been discharged if he had done so. He had known instances where parties had been discharged for knowing too much.

The witness was asked if he could identify the fraudulent pay rolls of which he had spoken, and he said he could. A sub-committee, consisting of Reilly and Darrell, were appointed to be at the treasury department with witness and see if the rolls were returned to that department. They were also instructed, in response to the telegram received by the chairman from New Orleans, to ascertain if the pay rolls of the month of December [illegible] and January and February [illegible] were in the department, also if any application had been made to withdraw them, if so by whom. A recess was then taken until 1 o'clock.

When the Senate resumed the consideration of the articles of impeachment, Barnum, the new Senator from Connecticut, was sworn in as a member of the court. The discussion on the question of jurisdiction was continued, and Mitchell made a lengthy argument in favor of it. He was followed by Logan in opposition.

The Senate then went into executive session.

At half past one the doors were reopened, but immediately closed again, and the Senate resumed the consideration of the articles of impeachment. At half past [illegible] the Senate again went into executive session, and after a short time the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

Tucker offered a resolution directing the President to inform the House whether he has received any official information with regard to violence and outrages menacing American citizens in Ottoman provinces, and whether any steps had been taken for the protection of such Americans, and requesting him to take measures to insure protection to American citizens. Adopted.

A resolution was adopted dismissing [illegible] and transferring the duties of the [illegible] to the sergeant at arms [illegible].

Fresh Troubles in Spain.

There is a possibility of a rising in the Basque provinces on account of the abolition of the Fueros. The troops in the garrison there number 10,000, and the force is by no means excessive under the circumstances. Navarre deputies will probably accept the government's conditions.

The Sultan gone Crazy.

LONDON, May 22.—A Vienna dispatch says the mental condition of the Sultan causes great apprehension; that he is subject to delusions, and fearing he will be buried alive or poisoned.

The insurgents are now under arms in Belgrade, and they have fled to the mountains. The Satins have sent a deputation proposing alliance.

British House of Commons.

LONDON, May 22.—In the House of Commons to-day Disraeli, in reply to a question of Maurice Brooks, Liberal and Home Rule member from Dublin, as to whether it is intended to advise the Queen to extend royal mercy to persons imprisoned for breach of allegiance to Her Majesty, stated that only [illegible] persons remain in custody within the category of the Fenian question. After a lengthy explanation, showing that two of these had been convicted of murder, six were in English prisons, and the remainder in West Australia under military surveillance merely, Disraeli said, considering the circumstances the government cannot now recommend further amnesty.

John O'Connor Powers, member from Mayo county, who is also a Liberal and Home Ruler, under a motion to adjourn strongly protested against the government's course.

George Anderson, Liberal, from Glasgow, Disraeli, Joseph Gillis Biggar, member from Cavan, Ireland, Home Rulers and Liberals spoke in reply, upholding the action of the ministry and declaring that England's honor was at stake. After further observations by Chas. S. Marnell, Home Ruler member from Meath, Philip Callan, Liberal, from Dundalk, and others, some of the English members saying they shared the ... under misapprehension—the subject of Fenians dropped. The scene during the debate was very animated.

[illegible] Simon, Liberal, will ask to-morrow whether the British subjects on board the Octar at the time of her capture by the Spaniards have been released, and if not, whether any steps have been taken to obtain their release, since all on board the Octar were protected by the British flag.

In reply to the question of Campbell, Disraeli said that the government was unable to concur in the proposal of the Northern Powers for the pacification of Turkish provinces, and that it was impossible to publish the terms of the proposal, which had been formally communicated to the Porte.

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, Liberal member for the city of Oxford, will to-morrow question the government as to whether before the final release of Winslow the House will have an opportunity to consider the correspondence between the United States and the British government in his case.

Winslow.

LONDON, May 22.—It is understood that the government will ask that Winslow be further remanded to-morrow, and as Baron Pollock is not likely to make any difficulty there is little probability of the prisoner's immediate discharge. Indeed the feeling is growing up here among those interested in the case that the government will not adhere to its present position, but will seek some other solution of the question than one based on its own responsibility to comply with the requirements of the treaty. The Pall Mall Gazette, which has hitherto strongly endorsed the position of the government, in a leading editorial to-day cites Secretary Fish's letter of the 1st of March, 1876, [illegible]

LETTER FROM PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, May 7, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The work of preparing for the grand opening ceremonies is progressing rapidly, and although the forms will be gone through with, still the whole arrangements will not be completed before the first of June. Our material is coming out in excellent condition, considering the distance it has been transported, very little having been damaged on its passage. As some of the packages go into place it would do you good to hear the remarks and see the astonishment manifested by some of the farmers, lumbermen and fruit growers of the older States. The department for Massachusetts is right alongside of ours, and being within a day's travel and having a $50,000 State appropriation, they are enabled to make a splendid display. Their superintendent is a real gentleman, and among other material had prepared heads of grain in glass cases for exhibition. When our grain in the straw came out these heads in the Massachusetts department disappeared, but I presume they will bring them back again. There will also be a strong competition in fruit. Oh! if I only had a few specimens of our fruit. It does seem to me as if there might be enterprise enough among our fruit growers to furnish them. I know if our people could once see the contrast, and witness the anxiety manifested by strangers about everything coming from Oregon, they would inaugurate means to furnish all our fruits and vegetables in their season. I append the accompanying extract from the Philadelphia Press relative to arrangements made for exhibiting fruits.

As the season of the Exhibition spares so long a period, it will be possible to show the pomological products of the previous year which have been kept over. This display will be during the week beginning May 16th, and will consist of the apples, pears and nuts of 1875, the keeping qualities of which warrant their exposition along with vegetables raised this season. As the apple is the most important northern fruit, it is gratifying to know that one State, Michigan, will send us this month forty varieties. The strawberry, that delicious morsel of food, will be shown from June 7th for a week, and the West Indian, who while at home may have hopelessly longed for a taste of it, will be able to judge for himself of its merits. Our Quaker butter dairies of Delaware and Chester counties will compete for the prize on best 5 prints with all the world for Early Grass Butter June 14th. Large cheese will also then be shown, and early vegetables June 20th. But time and space fail to tell of successive shows of honey, raspberries and blackberries, melons, peaches, cereals, potatoes and nuts which follow, each close on the heels of its predecessor, week after week till November 1st.

I have made an effort to obtain specimens of our fruit in cast from the Agricultural Department at Washington to place on exhibition, but Mr. Bayard informs me that their fruit is all to be exhibited in the Government buildings, and they cannot be spared. I shall try and get them duplicated if possible.

Yours, etc., A. J. DUFUR,
Commissioner for Oregon.

P. S.—Our State map has not yet arrived, as I had a space especially prepared for it; the wall looks very naked without it. Ain't it going to come? A. J. D.

BLAINE OR BRISTOW.

OREGON CITY, May 22, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In the issue of the 18th you say that Bristow appears to have a great deal [illegible] with the politicians. This is an admission true in itself, and as a consequence it would seem as if the popular refrain should be echoed by the OREGONIAN, which for some years past has shown its disdain of the politicians in the interest of the people. I therefore hope the OREGONIAN in the coming contest of the candidates will not stultify its past record by advocating the politicians' choice—Blaine—against the people's favorite—Bristow.

Had Blaine in fourteen years of official life at Washington ever been found in the gage of battle against corruption in any guise, something could be said in his commendation. But history is silent as to the instance. To claim on the one hand great sagacity, honesty and statesmanship for him, and then to presume him innocent of any knowledge of the [illegible]. It is not enough to claim for him non-participation in the thefts [illegible] Charles Sumner and Carl Schurz were the first to publicly proclaim from official position the iniquities of Grant's [illegible]

The War on the Central Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The injunction suit of A. Colton against the Central Pacific set for to-day was laid over until to-morrow, at the request of the defendants. The war between the directors and the small stockholders of the company promises to be carried to extremity. It is reported that the next move against the directors will be to attack the legality of the consolidation of the Southern with the Central Pacific, it being claimed by the adverse parties that the statutory provisions have not been complied with in such consolidation.

Smallpox in San Francisco.

The smallpox has again made its appearance in this city. Four cases have been discovered among the white residents in the vicinity of the Chinese quarter, and it is supposed that a number of cases exist there that have not come to light. Those attacked were removed to the pest house and their houses are quarantined. The health officers are reported to have expressed fears of its becoming an epidemic, and recommend measures of precaution. The steamer Colorado, which had several cases on board, is still undergoing fumigation in Mission Bay.

Chinaman Shot.

An old man named W. W. Williams, who was engaged in mining at Rebel Hill, about three miles from Folsom, killed a Chinaman yesterday in a dispute about a $4 wash bill, by shooting him with a pistol. The Chinaman was the aggressor, having rushed upon Williams with a huge knife, and the latter claims that he acted in self defense.

Smallpox in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The board of health held a special meeting this afternoon to consider what measures should be taken with regard to the infected steamship Colorado. The board voted to prosecute the pilot who brought the Colorado into port. One physician at the meeting, referring to the recent cases of smallpox discovered in the neighborhood of Chinatown, said the opinion that all that part of the town would become infected.

Henry Roberts has sent a petition to the Board of Supervisors for permission to exhibit the head of the bandit Chavez, captured by him in November last in Arizona. Roberts represents that he has been at considerable expense since the date of capture, and that it will be impossible for him to receive the reward offered by Gov. Booth until the meeting of the next legislature, and his funds being exhausted he desires permission to make such an exhibition as will enable him by its proceeds to return to Arizona.

Evidently a Row in Camp.

SAN DIEGO, May 22.—A card appears in the World this evening stating that there has been no Democratic convention held in this county; that the convention held some days ago was composed of renegades and sore heads from the Democratic party, and that the regular Democratic central committee held a meeting on the 6th of May, and appointed J. G. Estudillo, Wallace Leach, B. A. Lukas, [illegible] Boland and Thos. Sherman delegates to the State convention, who are entitled to represent this county in said convention. Signed by Thos. Sherman, chairman, and M. J. McCarthy, secretary.

Political Discussion and Row at Roseburg.

ROSEBURG, May 22.—Yesterday afternoon four of the nominees of the Republican, Independent and Democratic parties addressed a large audience at this place. Gen. Joseph Lane opened the discussion, occupying twenty minutes, and gave general satisfaction, which was made manifest by frequent applause. Mr. Smith, one of the Democratic nominees, followed and succeeded in convincing the people that he was a plain, common sense, honest farmer. W. T. Owens, one of the Independent nominees, then addressed the audience and sustained his reputation as a good stump speaker. Mr. [illegible], one of the Republican nominees, was then called to the stand. He entertained the audience by recounting the past history of the Republican and Democratic parties, and spoke of the origin of the Independent party [illegible]. During his speech he made an assertion in which Mr. Owens saw fit to contradict him, and he did so by stopping him in the progress of his speech [illegible]. A lively time ensued. [illegible] Peace was finally restored, but the audience was too much excited to listen calmly to the remarks of Messrs. Hermann and Benjamin, who afterwards spoke. [illegible] one of the most boisterous campaigns ever witnessed in Douglas county.

A Connecticut woman has just died from the effects of excessive laughter. She had laughed much, and while attempting to relieve him with some medicine dropped dead.

CENTENNIAL MACHINES.

America leads the world in agricultural implements. At the Paris Exposition and again at Vienna, all the leading prizes were carried off by American inventions. The display in this branch of industry at the Philadelphia Exposition doubtless exceeds that in any of the previous World's Fairs. A recent number of the Troy Times [illegible] relates what a reporter of that paper saw of the preparations making for the great occasion by one of the leading establishments in this country.

Yesterday, upon the invitation of the officers of the Walter A. Wood mowing machine company, a considerable number of gentlemen visited the works of the company at Hoosick Falls and inspected the machines which have been built for exhibition at the Centennial. The delegation was made up of many of Troy's representative men, and the trip in all its details was a most enjoyable as well as instructive occasion. Messrs. Willard Gay, C. W. Tillinghast and W. H. Warren had charge of the arrangements, and of course they were quite perfect. The company propose to exhibit 10 machines at Philadelphia, as follows: One header, one harvester and binder, one chain rake, one attachment for chain rake to be used as a mower or reaper, one sweep rake, one American two horse and one American one horse mower, one South American low-cut two horse mower, one English mower with dropper attachment for reaping, and one English one horse reaper with mowing attachment. As we have already described the machines, which are almost marvels of artistic workmanship, quite handsome enough for parlor ornaments and sufficiently strong and durable for the practical purposes of husbandry to which they are to be put after their exhibition, we need not enlarge upon them now further than to say that they are made of the usual materials which are employed in the manufacture of the company, most elaborately finished and beautified. The woodwork is painted in vermilion, black and gold; the ironwork is nickel plated—all the parts being polished to a surprising degree. The machines represent one each of the several manufactures of the company, and are to be set up in the Centennial buildings with power attachment ready for operation at all times. The boxes, seat-standards and levers are in black walnut. Each machine bears the motto, Labor omnia vincit, Labor has conquered all things—together with the company's monogram and emblematical designs of chaste and exquisite workmanship.

After reviewing these wonderful productions of skill, ingenuity and taste, the inspecting gentlemen made a tour of the company's immense workshops. They saw (but we apprehend few of the uninitiated understood) how 110 of these agricultural implements are daily turned out and shipped to all parts of the world for use in the service of man; how the rough ore becomes in a little while symmetrical parts, bright and polished, of these great labor saving implements of the age; how the rough oak is all bent and fashioned for its purposes by the wonderful machinery employed; how, in short, by the most systematic division of labor, a force of 700 men makes the shops vocal with the melody of industry, and accomplishes results that may be set down as among the greatest of human achievements in what we choose to denominate real science and art. Mr. Wood was present, and with Treasurer Gay, Mr. Tillinghast and others of the management of the company were especially attentive to the guests. The Trojans returned home at 6 o'clock, having enjoyed a most instructive and delightful occasion.

ITEMS FROM PUYALLUP.

Some enterprising Michiganders, just out from that dear old State, are getting out cotton wood bolts. They are literally covering the ground with them. I believe they get $5 a cord delivered at Tacoma. This is a business that might be carried on both to advantage and profit to the owners of land here. If the land holders here could realize $4 or even $3 for every cord of balm or cotton wood on their land, it would more than pay the expense of clearing.

Mr. C. B. Robbins, late clerk of E. Meeker & Co., has just completed his fine storehouse, and will go sometime the last of this week to Portland for a $5,000 stock of goods. Mr. R. is a thorough business man, well calculated to gain a fair share of patronage; in other words, "the right man in the right place." He has built by the side of the present survey of railroad, which has just been completed from Tacoma to the coal mines.

A party of five men from Tacoma passed here on Thursday, going to the coal mines, intending to spend several days in the exploration of the coal fields. We hope their labors will be crowned with success.

The grain crops look very well. There is not very much grain sown on the river bottom lands this season, owing to the great amount of hops cultivated in this vicinity. The most of the farmers have to buy their flour. It appears that every one has turned his attention to the cultivation of hops, and entirely forgotten that wheat, that makes bread, is the staff of life.

The hops are looking very fine, though some yards have not received the proper amount of labor, on account of the heavy rainfall during the winter and spring.

Mr. James Woolery has rented a small tract of land on which he intends laying out a race course. There is not a much better location in the Puyallup valley than the present one. The proprietor proposes to keep some of the best "bloods" on the coast. The thing will be managed on the Sacramento Jockey Club style. The celebrated young "Buck all Oil," "Cultus Jim," and "Lightning Jack" have just been received by the proprietor. Fees of entrance 200 hop poles; side bets on the same ratio. There will be kept refreshments for ladies and gentlemen. The time for racing will be duly announced in the Hardscrabble Gazette.

FROM BROWNSVILLE.

"Citizen," writing from Brownsville under date of the 22d inst., says:

The Brownsville Woolen Mills are still shut down for the want of wool, but they will probably start up next month. This company so far have been very successful, and the blankets, flannels and other goods manufactured by them are far superior to those that used to be imported here.

Prof. N. N. Steeves has just closed a successful term of writing school. The interest in the school was manifest from the very beginning, and much good was done. The youngest scholar in the school, Miss Sarah Kay, took the prize for most improvement, and received a magnificent gold pen and holder, and [illegible] competitors for best penmanship; Miss Minnie Leach got away with Shakspeare, the prize.

Although we are not on the line of any railroad, we have a live town, and among other things we have several lodges here. The Masons, Odd Fellows, Grangers, Champions, and last but not least the Good Templars, all hold meetings here and are doing well. Last Saturday evening the Odd Fellows had quite a surprise. After the usual lodge business was over, the ladies brought in a splendid supper, which was well appreciated by them all.

The following is a list of the officers of the Good Templars for this quarter: W. C. T., Ross; W. V. T., Anna Rowland; [illegible]

At our last meeting the following were elected representatives to the Grand Lodge at Salem: Mrs. Sade Long, Geo. A. Dyson, J. A. Banks.

Mr. Emerson thinks that men should trust each other more, and there seems to be a general feeling hereabouts that he is the man to open a small grocery in this section.

OREGON.

Jackson county has four candidates for sheriff.

Work has been commenced on the bridge across the river at Eugene.

The wool growers of Umatilla county will meet at the court house in Pendleton on Saturday, May 27th, at 1 o'clock P. M.

A packer named Johnson, near Baker City, was kicked by a mule last week and had his arm broken. Dat's what makes us 'spise a mule.

A letter from Gardiner states that there are now four vessels at that port, viz: J. B. Leeds, Active, Coral Light and Joseph Wolly, all loading with lumber from different wharves.

The body of John Duck was, on Monday, last week, found floating in the water about three quarters of a mile from the scene of the accident, by Joe Hull. He was buried at Linkville shortly afterward.

A Mr. Stanley, from Cape Girardeau, Mo., has just arrived in Oregon, where he has come to take editorial charge of the Monmouth Messenger. Mr. S. is said to be an old newspaper man, well up in the business. The Messenger is to be enlarged and otherwise improved under his management. We welcome Bro. Stanley to the journalistic field in Oregon.

The following is the Democratic ticket of Josephine county: For State Senator, Dan. L. Green; Representative, W. W. Fidler; Commissioners, J. E. Seyforth, John Wells; County Clerk, Chas. Hughes; Sheriff, T. G. Patterson; Treasurer, Wm. Naucke; Assessor, Jas. Lewis; School Superintendent, J. M. Smith; Surveyor, Wm. Saunders; Coroner, G. S. Mathewson.

S. Rigdon, of Pine Opening, Lane county, furnishes the Mercury with the following statistics of the travel on the military road leading from Eugene City across the Cascade mountains to the Klamath and Goose Lake country, during the year 1875—Going east: men, 502; women, 108; children, 182; horses, 871; wagons, 174; cattle, 3,221; sheep, 5,426. Going west: men, 440; women, 123; children, 166; horses, 774; wagons, 164; cattle, 25; sheep, 11.

The Polk county Telegram says: "So far as we can learn, most of the spring sowing of wheat has been finished, and farmers, as a general thing, seem in good heart and expect good crops. Fall sown wheat looks well all over the county, and the spring sown that has come up is looking unusually fine. Our farmers think that on account of the late rains and mild winter, the yield of grain will be nearly, if not quite, as large as last year. The present prospects indicate a fair price for wheat next fall—say $1 per bushel."

A letter from Lake county to the Plaindealer says: "A considerable amount of stock has perished during the winter, not, however, from the want of feed, as there was a large amount of hay put up last year, and the winter before being light, many stockmen had old hay on hands. Cattle died when they were fat enough for beef, and they must have died from other causes than poverty or exposure; it was supposed to be some [illegible]. Sheep also suffered as bad or worse. [illegible] was supposed to be about twenty per cent. of the cattle of this county died during the winter."

A Cottage Grove, Lane county, letter of May 17th says: "Our village was thrown into considerable excitement by the sudden death of J. M. Underhill. He had been complaining for about a month with [illegible], so annoying had the disease [illegible] concluded to go east of the mountains. He went to Nat Martin's yesterday, and while there was taken with a sort of [illegible] fit, which lasted until this morning, when death ensued. Mr. Underhill was 48 years of age and a native of Maryland. He was a man of sterling qualities, a genial gentleman and an honest man."

The Pendleton paper says: "Times in Umatilla county are beginning to liven up. This is owing mainly to the great number of cattle that are being bought in this county and driven to the railroad and other points east of here. Adams and Reynolds left here a few days ago en route to Wyoming with about two thousand head. Shiedly and [illegible] have purchased about four thousand [illegible] and will in a few days start for Cheyenne. These cattle have cost the parties about fifteen dollars a head; six thousand head at $15 per head will make $90,000. Quite a snug little sum to leave in this county."

THE TERRITORIES.

The bark Helen W. Almy, 314 tons, has been chartered at San Francisco to take a cargo of lumber from Port Blakely to New Caledonia, at £4 10s.

Four young men out sailing on the bay at Olympia failed to come in with the tide; their boat, with them in it, lay on the flats all night recently, and anything but pleasant weather at that.

The Seattle Tribune says the farmers on Whidby island have been busy for two months past putting in and cultivating their crops. The principal production is vegetables. An acquaintance of the writer has in fifteen acres of potatoes alone. His crop last year yielded two thousand bushels, and this year will be three thousand and over. Onions, [illegible] gas beets and other roots, berries and tree fruits are also extensively grown, and the surplus product sold to trading vessels, or shipped to this city or the mill ports. There is a constant annual increase of the resident population, and occasionally enough go in at one time for the establishment of quite a community.

Hassalo Lodge No. 15, I. O. O. F. Meets every Friday evening at 7½ o'clock, in Odd Fellows Temple, corner First and Alder streets. Members of the Order are invited to attend. By order of N. G.

[illegible] AND VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

To vote intelligently is to vote with a clear comprehension of what is involved, and of the fitness of the candidates for the duties of the respective offices for which they are nominated. Voting for a man because he is known to be the nominee of the party whose sentiments agree on general politics with those of the voter, is the least intelligent of all voting except that which is done in obedience to the behests of some individual. It is only so much better as it is better to be dictated to by a convention of individual than by a single individual.

The fitness of a candidate for office is to be determined by considering what are the duties of the particular office, and to what extent he possesses both the ability and the disposition to perform those duties according to the wishes of the voter. If the duties are in their nature political, that is, if they are such as to influence the general political policy of the government, the political views, relations and [illegible]ciations of the candidate become a matter of importance a qualification for the office. It is of trifling moment, under ordinary circumstances, whether the administration of the State government is in the hands of one party or another, so it be in honest [illegible], because the State governments have practically nothing to do with the political policy of the nation. It is, therefore, of little importance, for State purposes, whether the legislature is Republican, Democratic or Independent, so it is [illegible] of honest and capable men. A [illegible] can never be qualified for a good [illegible] servant in any position, and, on the other hand, a good and capable man can[illegible] a [illegible] public servant, on account of [illegible] views on matters over which [illegible] gives him no control. But one [illegible] of political policy, or of the [illegible] relations between the General Government and the States, or between [illegible] and the people, [illegible] in [illegible] respects, should [illegible] for—unless as a choice [illegible] for an office in which [illegible] would naturally influence the [illegible] in those particular respects. [illegible] application of these tests to [illegible] tickets now before the people [illegible] county will greatly assist every [illegible] arriving at a conclusion as to what [illegible] as a citizen. The legis[illegible] to be chosen will be [illegible] United States Senator [illegible] important political [illegible] duty of the legislature [illegible] is a very high [illegible] character. Perhaps [illegible] question before the [illegible] what manner of man [illegible] the State in the highest [illegible] National government. Re[illegible] matter what have been [illegible] their course of action on [illegible] hardly be willing to see [illegible] to the Senate. The [illegible] Democratic. Whether it [illegible] beyond the present term [illegible] is it desirable that [illegible] shall be passed over to [illegible] No Republican will say [illegible] have the settling [illegible] then should [illegible] for trifling reasons, [illegible] to Republican can[illegible] It is [illegible] pretended [illegible] the Senate who [illegible] the State then [illegible] but the election [illegible] is now out [illegible] not be feared.

It is composed [illegible] ability and personal [illegible] the various pur[illegible] so that it may be [illegible] the interests of all [illegible] due attention in legis[illegible] upon the ticket [illegible] private character. [illegible] the intelligence and [illegible] the people. And [illegible] as candidates [illegible] for no man for [illegible] Republican, nor for [illegible] character is a re[illegible]. Let the voter bear [illegible] in mind, give them due [illegible] on his conscience, [illegible] it will be elected by as large [illegible] as the united Republican [illegible] county can give.

[illegible] are not political in [illegible]. It is of little [illegible] or men who fill these [illegible] Democratic or Republican [illegible] sentiments. The Repub[illegible] recognizing this fact, [illegible] for these offices, men [illegible] and personal qualifi[illegible] the duties of the respective [illegible] a guaranty to the public for [illegible] efficient service. Some of [illegible] the public heretofore, [illegible] satisfaction. Unlike [illegible] tickets presented sometimes by [illegible] Conventions, they are not [illegible] may be expected to use their political machines to further the [illegible] of a few corrupt politicians. The whole ticket deserves the undivided [illegible] of the people, and we feel confi[illegible] it will be elected by a handsome ma[illegible].

BLAINE AND BRISTOW.

Many times the OREGONIAN has expressed its admiration of Secretary Bristow, its faith in his integrity and ability, and its hearty indorsement of him as a [illegible] candidate for the Presidency. We have expressed, more than once, the [illegible] that there would be no reason to [illegible] of the action of the National Convention, if it should take the two Bs with the Kentucky B in the lead. But in our opinion, it is not at all improbable that the bringing of Bristow prominently forward as the leading competitor of Blaine for the first place on the ticket, would result in the defeat of both and the nomination of Morton or Conkling, a result certainly to be greatly deprecated. Blaine's stand against the Force bill in [illegible] last Congress placed him before the [illegible] of his country was at stake. That he is a politician of the shrewdest kind, no one can deny; but he is a statesman and patriot too, if his course on great questions is to be taken for evidence. And, besides he has the quality of availability, which is never to be despised in a crisis like the present. Bristow is strong before the people. So is Blaine. Let it be admitted that Bristow is the stronger in the affections of the country; still he has the opposition of the politicians, while Blaine has that of only a part of them—the Washington ring. To array the friends of the two in direct and declared antagonism, would probably aid in presenting to us and our Oregon City correspondent, whose communication appears in this paper, the choice between a Republican named by the Washington ring and some second-rate Democratic politician, with, possibly, a rag doll for a financial policy. How would this alternative be relished?

Nor can we think Blaine should be held responsible for the corruptions in the administration. His duties as Speaker of the House were laborious in the extreme, occupying his entire time and requiring his constant attention. Of all the members of the House the Speaker would have least opportunity to track up and drag into the light corruptions in the administration of the government. And yet the only objection to Blaine on that score is that he did not attack these corruptions. The objection, we think, is founded on a process of reasoning which fails to take in all the material facts. Blaine is not a corrupt man nor a corruptible man. Had he been either, the opportunities and temptations of the last fifteen years would have swept him down, as they did the hundred other popular idols that have perished.

PERTURBED DEMOCRACY.

No wonder the Democrats at Washington City are perturbed by the action of the Ohio State Convention. By a vote so decisive as to leave no room for doubt of the purposes of the Democracy of that great State, the rag-money scheme is presented to the country again, with the name of Fog Horn Allen for its champion. What with the defeat of the dilutionists in Ohio last fall, and the decided hostility of Eastern Democrats to any departure from the ancient hard money principles of the party, the prospect for the future of the party is gloomy indeed under a rag-money programme; while if a hard-money candidate on a hard-money platform, be presented by the St. Louis convention, the loss of the rag-money States may be counted on as altogether probable. The situation is certainly critical, and to all appearances a catastrophe is imminent. The only hope of the Democracy on a rag-money basis would be in some equal blunder of the Republicans. But the Republican Convention is to precede the Democratic, and the political managers of the former will not be guilty of the blunder of leaving any room for a rag-money construction in their platform. The prospect of a conflict among the Democrats on that subject will admonish the Republicans of the importance of placing themselves squarely on the record in favor of return to specie, so as to make advantage of the discord among their adversaries. The Democratic managers must find some way to hush the rag-money fog-horn, or they are beaten before they enter the contest.

Mr. Eakon, the Republican candidate for district attorney of the fifth district will have an easy-going thing of it, if the Democrats, who have a majority in the district, will only vote like intelligent men, instead of party slaves. He is represented as a young gentleman of fine talents, irreproachable character and good legal attainments, while his competitor has never studied law and was never admitted to the bar. Can it be hoped the Democracy of that district will show to the world that they are men and American citizens, and not mere lay figures to be moved about as the party managers may choose to handle them?

They do say another execution has issued to collect the money due on the Sam May judgment, since it has become certain there will be no straight Republican ticket in Jackson county. Knowing ones, referring to this matter, are wont to remark that "thereby hangs a tale." A speech from the Secretary of State on this subject would be listened to with interest, provided he made a full showing of all the "true inwardness" of the case. Wouldn't a copy of some interesting correspondence be in order just now?

Ex-Governor Seymour, among his oracular utterances which have recently been circulated, said the Democratic party have an advantage in the fact that they have not been in power during the last few years. He is probably right. And he might have added that the country in general has enjoyed a very decided advantage from the same fact. This is the only instance we can recollect, in which the interests of the nation and those of the Democratic party have been the same.

Apropos of the appointment of Don. Cameron as Secretary of War we find this item in an exchange: "Some of the honest farmers in Western Pennsylvania have been discovered in the manufacture of wolf and fox ears from colt hides, on which they collected large bounties from the local treasury." 'Rah for Pennsylvania!

With a plain understanding no Micks need apply.

No Paddy from Ireland had a ghost of a show,
Each one that came forward went down with a blow,
For the sow of Missouri with ravenous brood,
Hog's every trough that contained any food.

But thanum a-dhoul! let 'em snort as they will;
Begorra, their snouts are not yet in the swill;
The day of election will make some look blue,
And Spitogues of t'hricksters will cry toirra stene.

We have learned a lesson, an' know friends from foe;
And we do not intend to be led by the nose.
They have played us for tanners, sans gumption or brains
And political stiffs we will make—for their pains.

The Greeks and the Micks sure they hate and despise
On the fifth day of June, lads, we'll open their eyes.
As yet, sure, no falls on our heads can be seen;
Tho' we love it, and wear it, we're not dyed in the green.

PICNICS.

The annual picnic of the Independent German School will take place at Canyon Garden next Sunday.

The annual military and civic picnic and target excursion of the Emmet Guard will be given at East Portland Park on the 29th inst. This well known military company enjoy the reputation of giving agreeable picnics, and a very large attendance may be expected. A number of games will be introduced during the day.

That old and deservedly popular organization, the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society, propose to give their annual grand basket picnic at East Portland Park Thursday, June 1st. Added to the natural advantages of the grounds, an attractive programme has been devised, which cannot fail to amuse the crowd. Athletic sports and games will be inaugurated during the day, consisting of ladies' target shooting, fat men's race, ladies' foot race, wheelbarrow race, sack race, hurdle race, leaping, best three in five, climbing the greasy pole, together with croquet playing, kicking football, swinging, quoit pitching, etc. At 6 o'clock in the evening a balloon ascension will take place from the Park, concluding with a display of fireworks. Refreshments in abundance will be served on the ground. Good music will be furnished and a large dancing platform provided for the accommodation of dancers.

Should the day prove propitious, the large and commodious steamer Annie Stewart and the barge Autocrat, will leave the foot of Washington street, having on board the Red Men of the city and doubtless a host of their friends. Minnehaha Grove, situated a short distance from Milwaukie, has been selected. Picnics given under the auspices of the Red Men of Portland have, in the past, without exception, proved successful and thoroughly enjoyable; and the one to be given to-day will, in no respect, prove inferior to preceding occasions of a similar character. Of this fact the public are too well aware to require further comment, and all that is necessary to insure a large attendance and a pleasant time is a fair day. The Portland City Band will furnish music, and the barge affords ample scope for lovers of the terpsichorean art to "do the mazy." Prior to the departure of the excursionists, the members of the Order will form at the hall, and escorted by music, parade through the streets and down to the point of embarkation. Arriving at the grounds a number of sports and games will be inaugurated, such as races, etc. The boat will leave the wharf at 9 o'clock A. M. for the ground, and returning here will leave again at 1 o'clock. It is generally understood that if the day proves disagreeable, the picnic will be postponed. The following are the officers of the day: President, W. H. Utter; Oration, R. E. Bybee; Marshal, E. J. Jeffery.

A SUGGESTION.

City Editor Oregonian:

Being somewhat patriotic, and desiring to see everything in connection with our coming anniversary done "decently and in order," I would respectfully suggest to the Centennial committee that by mutual agreement, a day (other than the 4th) be set apart during Centennial week for the benefit and parade of the secret and other benevolent orders of our State who intend to take part in our celebration. Believing that by so doing it would add much to the interest of the occasion, besides giving those of our visitors who may be members, an opportunity of assisting in the celebration instead of being mere spectators. C. H. G.

THE COURTS.

Adjourned to Monday next at usual hour.

NEW BOOKS.

The following new books have just been added to the Portland Library Association:

"Tell It All:" The Story of a Life's Experience in Mormonism. An Autobiography by Mrs. T. B. H. Stenhouse of Salt Lake City, for more than twenty years, the wife of a Mormon Missionary and Elder, with introductory preface by Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, illustrated.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

What an elegant dress? is the universal remark of the ladies as they pass the new store of Jos. Harris, on Morrison street, in the St. Charles hotel building. It is but a sample of the many dresses he has on hand, and which he is selling at low figures. Call and see them.

The rush to the picnic to-day will not interfere materially with the price of clothing. Beck & Waldman have a standing reputation for selling clothing at remarkably low prices. Recollect them when you want a fine suit.

Persons having corns will please not pare them for four or five days and then call on or end for Dr. Halfbuner. He will remove and cure them without causing pain or lameness.

NOTICE.

Any business of mine, will be attended to by my son "Chas. F. Wightman," who will supply the "Wightman Process" to those suffering from Hemorrhoid or Piles, and diseases of the Rectum; his experience in the "Field Hospitals" of the "Fifteenth Army Corps," Gen. Sherman, during the whole of the late war, was probably greater than Surgeons have in a life time, out of the service. He will, no doubt, give every satisfaction to those needing his services as "Assistant Surgeon" or otherwise. Thanking the citizens of Portland, and elsewhere in the State, Idaho and Washington Territory, for their confidence and liberality. I hope our short acquaintance has been of great advantage to all. My address until further notice will be "San Francisco, Cal." In Portland, "Chas F. Wightman N. E. cor. Stark and Fourth street, P. O. box 247."

The pupils of St. Mary's Academy of the Sacred Heart will give a May festival on Wednesday evening next, which promises to be a brilliant success financially and otherwise.

At a special meeting of the Capital Guards held at their armory Saturday evening, William Clark was elected captain and Thos. Kelly first lieutenant, to fill vacancies in the roster.

W. W. Martin is manufacturing a gold medal to be presented to the best speller in the Willamette University to be contested for on Friday next. It is donated by A. Bush, Esq., and is valued at about $20—a prize worth contending for.

Chas. Swegle, Esq., became the purchaser of the Parrish property, on Commercial street, occupied by Conn's dollar store, which was sold on Saturday last, the price paid being $5,165, which is considered a good bargain for the purchaser.

The base ball entertainment on Friday evening last was well attended, and with a few exceptions, far above the average. Especial mention should be made of the solos and recitations by Misses Ollie Chamberlin, Bertha Moores and Ada May. The drama, "Down by the Sea," was voted a success. Mrs. J. M. Patterson was the winner of the silver ice pitcher presented by S. Friedman, Esq. The receipts amounted to about $75.

The first and second nines of the College base ball club met on the diamond field Saturday afternoon in response to a challenge issued by the latter club to decide the championship of Marion county, and the point of ownership of the champion bat won by the Aldines last summer, which by their disbandment reverted to the donor, Col. T. H. Cann of this city. Both nines brought out their full strength and the game was called by E. D. Crandall, who was selected umpire. Notwithstanding the heavy showers preceding the game, which softened the ground, the game was well played, resulting in an overwhelming victory for the first nine by a score of 39 to 7.

The unterrified Democracy, led by Grover and Watkinds have formed a coalition with certain parties desirous of defeating prominent candidates on the Republican ticket met a few days since and nominated a half and half Democratic-Republican county ticket. We have endeavored to secure the proceedings but they prove to be the especial property of the Daily Mercury, in the columns of which they will appear this evening. We have, however, secured the following nominations, which are undoubtedly correct, the ticket, with the exceptions of Col. C. A. Reed and McLean, being made up from those already in the field. It stands about as follows: For sheriff, Jos. A. Baker, (Rep.); clerk, Van R. Hyde, (Dem.); treasurer, A. F. Wheeler, (Rep.); assessor, W. B. Porter, (Rep.), surveyor, Seth R. Hammer, (Dem.); school supt., Wm. Kiezur, (Dem.) The legislative ticket is decidedly mixed, but embraces among the rest Col. C. A. Reed, (R.) F. X. Mathieu, (D.), McLean of Silverton, (D.), Chas. Miller, Marion, (D.), Sliph. Smith, Aurora, (R.), T. R. Smith, Salem, (R.) Central committee—Henry Smith, T. L. Davidson, Jno. P. Cole, Henry Warren and J. W. Grim. The above ticket is substantially correct.

S. B. Catterlin, who has just arrived from Tillamook, brings some rather startling intelligence, the death-bed confession of one Chas. Bean, who died on his ranche, about two miles below the toll-gate on the Trask river road, in that county, on the 12th inst. To his partner, who, with him, was keeping bachelor hall on the place, he confessed to the murder of several parties as well as to being an accomplice in as many robberies. He acknowledges killing a man, wife and child on the plains several years ago, and also to having a hand in the Howard murder, in Tillamook, a few years since. At his request, the hearthstone of the fireplace was removed and a large bunch of keys destroyed. A valuable breech-loading rifle was exhumed from his garden plot, by his direction, which he desired thrown into the river. He says himself and two confederates robbed the overland stage near Yreka, a few years since, securing some $21,000, his third of which lies buried somewhere near that locality, the exact spot being described to his present partner. He also gave minute directions where a lot of valuable goods were secreted on a mountain near his house, supposed to be the contents of Hutche's store, which was rifled a few months since. He has always been a suspicious character, and during his few years' residence there has been closely watched, but no evidence could be established against him. His story is credited by his neighbors, and his death is a relief to the peaceably-inclined citizens of that county. More developments are promised us in a few days.

HENRY WILSON MONUMENTAL ASSOCIATION.

Fort Vancouver, May 18, 1876.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

At a meeting held by the Henry Wilson Monumental Association at Fort Vancouver, W. T., the secretary read letters from Generals Schofield, Howard, Augur, Pope and Kautz, all of whom notify the association that they accept the trust asked of them by this society, and heartily endorse the movement inaugurated by the soldiers, and acknowledge receipts of subscriptions from various posts in their respective departments.

The 1st sergeants of the companies and organizations stationed at this post were requested to solicit subscriptions in their respective companies. A meeting was called on the 17th inst. for the purpose of collecting said subscriptions, with the following result: Band 21st Infantry, $30; company I, 21st Infantry, $24; company H, 21st Infantry, $20; company E, 21st Infantry, $17; company D, 21st Infantry, $12; ordnance, Vancouver arsenal, $25; total, $137; which money was ordered to be turned over to General Howard, Department Commander.

Some of the 1st sergeants, on handing in their collections, stated that all subscriptions were not yet collected, owing to the fact that the men did not have the money at this time, but would be collected next pay-day.

A motion was made and adopted that the minutes of this meeting be published in the Oregonian, Portland, Oregon, New York Herald, San Francisco Bulletin, Sunday Herald, Washington City, and Army and Navy Journal, with the request that other papers please copy.

JOHN PIPER,
Commissary Sergt., U. S. A., President.
Wm. Kenkle, 1st Sergt. Co. I, 21st Infantry, Secretary.

MRS. DR. B. A. OWENS,

Office and residence, east side First Street, between Yamhill and Taylor. Special attention given to Women and Children complaints. Also gives Medicated Vapor Baths in treating Rheumatism and Chronic Diseases.

W. L. Adams, M. D., A. M., LL. D., corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated, electric lightning cream baths, and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. A lady always in the office to assist in treating women.

NOTICE.

The undersigned in taking leave of Portland returns his sincere thanks for the liberal patronage that has been bestowed, and would bespeak for his successors a continuance of the same.

Both Drs. BARBER & NICKLIN are gentlemen in every way competent and worthy of any confidence that may be placed in them, and as such I can conscientiously recommend them to my former friends and patrons. I. H. HATCH.

When you wish to present a respectable appearance dress well. All the young and old men in the town consider that the late importations at Jos. Kohn's are the best they have seen. Kohn is always "up to snuff" and provides his patrons with the latest and best. Examine the stock.

Peter Wilhelm, at the "Fountain," First and Ash streets, keeps things in a cozy shape. His billiard tables are much admired and the new Virginius table is a great favorite. Call and see him.

Our regular correspondent at Vancouver, under date of the 22d, writes:

Wheat crops are looking well through the county.

The Columbia river has fallen about two feet at this place.

The fruit prospects are said to be very good in this part of the country.

An effort will be made this week to replenish the M. E. Sunday school library.

The mumps have prevailed among the children in this place for the past few weeks.

Miss DeVore, from this place, now teaching near Oswego, Oregon, will close her school this week.

The fishing at this place is unsuccessful so far this year. Can it be that the fish are growing scarce.

Mr. Burlingame brought in a few bushels of new potatoes from his farm on Saturday last, which sold readily.

S. D. Maxon, who attended the grand lodge of Odd Fellows in Salem last week, has returned and reports a harmonious and pleasant session.

Quite a number of families have been interfered with by high water along the Columbia river bottom, and some have moved out to the high land.

Col. Shaw's father is stopping with him for the present, who is now eighty years of age, and looks as young and appears as active as a man of forty-five. He must be good for twenty years yet.

Gen. Grant recently appointed three young men as cadets at West Point, all of whom were born at Vancouver, W. T., being, namely, sons respectively of Gen. Alvord, Gen. Judah and Col. Hodges. They are to enter the school June, 1877.

The Hon. B. Morrison, who for years has been engaged in the hoop business in this place, being master of the situation, proposes to continue to turn our underbrush into gold. In this he is doing a good work for our country, and such is his knowledge of the business that when he goes into the market with his material he finds ready sale.

CASCADE NOTES.

Our regular correspondent at the Cascades sends the following items under date of May 22d:

In consequence of the large down freights, of both cattle and grain, the Oneonta is delayed longer at this place than usual.

Cannot some of Portland's lovers of sport pay us a visit in the shape of an excursion, picnic, or something of the sort? You are welcome, Portlanders.

The snow on the high mountains in this vicinity is rapidly disappearing, since "Old Sol" has begun to pour down his rays with such undaunted vigor.

The first picnic of the season was held on the 14th inst., at Pine Grove. The ladies were managers on the occasion, and every one enjoyed themselves highly.

A base ball club has been recently organized here, under the auspices of some sporting gentlemen. The boys play very good considering the time of practice.

The river is beginning to fall at this point, but it is two feet higher now than it was at any time last year. The regular high water occurs generally on or about June 17th.

A large number of Indians have arrived here lately from the different reservations of the upper country, as is their wont every summer, to fish and hunt for their winter's food.

Shattered Constitutions Rebuilt.

In the use of a wholesome invigorant lies the only hope of rebuilding a shattered constitution. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are not only an eminently wholesome tonic, but they rectify with most satisfactory promptitude derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels which are incompatible with a return of health and strength. When the system is enfeebled by disease, by the wear and tear of business life, but continuous mental anxiety, by the exhaustion consequent upon late hours and fast living, by over-work and by sedentary habits, the Bitters are the most reliable medicinal agent for imparting permanent vigor to the debilitated frame. The new stock of vitality which they infuse into broken down physique, and the orderly action which they establish among the organs of digestion, secretion and evacuation, moreover, constitute its best safeguard against malarial disease.

A Universal Remedy.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" for Coughs, Colds and Bronchial Affections, stand first in public favor and confidence; this result has been acquired by a test of many years.

LAND FOR IMMIGRANTS.
Choice Farms for Sale.
4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem, all under cultivation, and suitable for grain or vegetables.

946 Acres, four miles southeast of Salem, on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety-four bushels per acre, grain weighed and ground chained by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem.

2,700 Acres of prairie and light brush land, with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately resurveyed, and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels, to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best of this advantage, and I can offer any persons or persons, or colony of persons, desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably situated with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms, than they can ever expect to realize again. THE GENTLEMAN EMIGRANT

"The gentleman emigrant is rarely a success anywhere. He starves in Australia while the adventurer of coarser texture digs his way to wealth. In Canada he shivers in helpless gentility, while the men who were his father's laborers in England become well-to-do and contented farmers. In the United States he is still more out of place. Colonial life has its old country traditions which secure for him a consideration for him that on his own account he could never earn. But [illegible] feelings have no play. The emi[illegible], whether born in but or hall, must [illegible] self equal to the task he undertakes, [illegible] soon drops out of sight. The breeding [illegible] in ordinary difficulties cannot [illegible] strength in the struggle to [illegible] tenths of the emigrants are ex[illegible] out of heart, it soon sinks [illegible] a condition of helpless despondency [illegible] nowhere better exemplified than [illegible] those who were lured by pictures of the happi[illegible] in store for "gentlemen emi[illegible]"

They should be people [illegible] have no [illegible] pride, no fear of hardship [illegible], no unwillingness to adapt themselves [illegible] circumstances and to discard the fond [illegible] desirable things, which is one of [illegible] characteristics of "the gentle[illegible]." Eng[illegible] Grain Markets

Mr. H. Kains Jackson an eminent English au[illegible] on the grain trade, in a letter to the London [illegible], concludes that the possibilities of [illegible] are not sufficiently marked to in[illegible] possibly the grain markets and consid[illegible] weather in France of much more [illegible]. He states that Paris observations go [illegible] to find a parallel in wretched 1845—a cold [illegible] following the inclement spring and a [illegible] four to six bushels under the average. As [illegible] condition of the market he says [illegible] is an even surface—what may be called a [illegible] tide of supplies and thinks there is not any [illegible] likely to occur to reduce the level of stocks. The same writer remarks as follows in regard to the [illegible] of India

The new feature in the wheat trade of East India supplying the United Kingdom is becoming more pronounced and the experience of the past season [illegible] to have satisfied millers to go on buying Indian produce. The development of the canal traffic [illegible] one thing—plentiful and cheap tonnage to bring grain and seed home in ships freighted out with British exports. In the same way as shippers [illegible] bring home Australian wheat there is every [illegible] of Indian produce being stimulated in its supply, if for no other reason than for furnishing back freights to the fleet of ships employed in our Indian and Australian trade. The present quotations for Indian soft red wheat, 40s and 40s 6d [illegible] white. April May shipments are low enough to attract attention and as guides to point out what the summer level of value will be.

Mr. Jackson concludes that the choice qualities of American wheat however must always find a ready market in England on account of their superiority over the products of India and Australia.

The recent tendency of the gold market has been downward, a fact which is generally attributed to a [illegible] foreign demand but the following statement showing the maximum rates for gold and the [illegible] shipments from New York during the first four months of the years named indicate that the premium has very little to do with the volume of exports. The table is

	Premium	Exports
1872.	13¼	$9 225 000
1873	19½	17 638 300
1874	14½	10 812 300
1875	17	21 863 300
1876.	15	16 053 300

The San Francisco Bulletin now comes to the front with the objection to the method adopted by the government in redeeming the fractional currency with silver only instead of gold. The theory is plausible as it would have compelled the purchase of silver for change on a gold basis and would have materially increased the value of the government's outstanding paper.

The Tonnage Question

The condition of the market in other respects seems to have a corresponding effect on the tonnage question on this coast. The San Francisco Commercial News of a recent date says: "Wheat freights have been somewhat more active and the spot charterers able to embrace four ships for immediate loading at an advance on previous rates. As high as £3 18s 6d was paid for Cork U. K. but the last charter drawn was at £3 15s which is a fair quotation at the close. Three ships have also been taken for July loading Liverpool direct at £[illegible] in one case and said to be the same figure for the other two. Wheat having declined here and the stock left in the State far exceeding the estimates made causes some demand for spot vessels for immediate loading to Cork U. K. or Continent, though the English wheat market remains very dull. For Liverpool direct no demand exists at present. Very little can be said regarding charters to arrive. Ships are still offered freely at £3 5s direct but this is above operators' views. The total amount of tonnage so far taken will approximate 70 000 tons. Outside business continues stagnant and the market seems bare of offers."

Home Produce Market.

The market is quiet and with some little more animation to wheat and flour prices given last week are only sustained and there is not much disposition to any advance. The two vessels Caller Ou and Wave Queen each of which will convey a large invoice of breadstuffs will soon finish loading and the docks here will be clear of foreign bound grain carrying ships. Millers will of course still purchase all desirable lots that offer at their terms but it is not likely that exporters will do much more until harvest.

The receipts of oats are very light at present and shipments abroad have fallen off to almost a nominal figure. On account of its scarcity the prices for mill feed are kept up to former quotations. Other products are coming forward in less volume and prices are unchanged.

A Fine Ship.

The following from the Boston Globe of May 5th is cumulative testimony to the fact that the ship building interest of the Pacific coast is receiving increased attention in the marine world. The Globe says:

Among the arrivals here to-day we note the Pacific built ship Wildwood Captain Harriman from Hull England April 8. She was built at Port Madison, on the Pacific in 1871 registers 1099 tons and is owned by C. L Taylor & Co. She is of a medium clipper model, 198 feet long 40 wide and 20 deep including 6½ feet height between decks. Her frame planking and ceiling are of Oregon pine and we understand the planking on her bottom extends from stem to sternpost without a single butt. There are a very few butts in her anywhere and she is strongly fastened. Her spars are splendid sticks, and aloft as well as below she looks finely. Her appearance in our harbor seeking employment illustrates the great commercial changes that have taken place in the relative position of the Atlantic and Pacific States since gold was discovered in California.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship John L Stephens will be due from San Francisco to-morrow night.

The steamship California from Sitka and the Gussie Telfair from Nanaimo and way ports are due here.

The bark Wave Queen and the ship Caller Ou are receiving their cargoes and are the only vessels now loading.

The bark Dawn sailed from San Francisco for Portland last Saturday.

The Br ship British Statesman hence for Liverpool was spoken off Cape Horn on the 10th of March last.

The brig Orient sailed from San Francisco for this port May 11th.

A GOOD WASHING MACHINE.

THE

COMPLETE WASHER

WITH GREAT SATISFACTION WE TESTIFY to the wonderful qualities of the "COMPLETE WASHER." Machine which is in use by many of the best families in our city because it makes the wash day one of pleasure and causes no wear on clothing or tire the operator. It is the excessive and exhaustive labor by the women of our land who are toiling all day long at an ordinary family washing in the hot suds wearing away their knuckle bones and very lives every week in the year and going out from the seething tub to the cold air which causes our mothers sisters and loved ones to take cold so easily causing pains in the back and limbs rheumatism [illegible] chills and fever etc. sometimes resulting in death. Ladies rescue yourselves from this thraldom and purchase a Complete Washer the Premium Washer of our land which economizes time and does away with this excessive labor. [illegible] know that for one to handle by hand large articles such as quilts etc. that it is exceedingly difficult by the old mode. We advise and entreat everybody therefore to have one of these Machines. They are within the reach of every family.

Best of Wringers and Clothes Lines always on hand.

Of the great number who have this Machine in Oregon and on the Pacific slope not one would part with it. Hundreds and thousands of such testimonials could be gotten.
